Public Officials Join Publishers On Round-The-World Flight

NEW YORK—Global short cuts for air travel, developed during the war, are now being adapted to commercial use with Pan American World Airways leading the way. The Clipper America with public officials, company directors and 15 leading U.S. publishers aboard circled the globe, see route on chart above, in 93 flying hours while covering 22,170 miles of airways. An elaborate series of entertainments and meetings planned by government officials of the countries visited made the elapsed time for the trip about 336 hours.

The publishers made the flight to secure on-the-scene reports from government officials and U.S. correspondents on conditions in the countries visited. The globe-circling route, recently certified by the Civil Aeronautics Board will begin regular round-the-world mail and passenger service the week following the flight. To close its one gap, the San Francisco to New York transcontinental hop, Pan American now awaits C.A.B. approval of its application for domestic routes.

ECONOMIC HIGHLIGHTS

Happenings That Affect the Dinner Pails, Dividend Checks and Tax Bills of Every Individual—National and International Problems Inseparable from Local Welfare

As the first Republican Congress in fifteen years draws toward its close, the country is beginning to evaluate its achievements. The sum of public opinion will be of great political importance, inasmuch as the program which the Republicans have started will provide the campaign issues for next year's presidential race.

In the early days of the current Congress, the Republican leadership was widely criticized for what seemed to be an excessive slowness in getting started. That criticism was based, at least in part, on misconceptions. For example, it takes a freshman senator several years to get on to the traditions, procedures and customs of the Senate. The Republicans labored under the disadvantage of having very few old-timers in their ranks, and a disproportionately large number of field senators were brand new, and green as grass. Some of the Democrats of long standing took advantage of this, and constantly tossed monkey wrenches into the creaking legislative machinery. Under these conditions, the Republicans did a good job in organizing their battalions and starting the wheels rolling. Much of the credit for this must go to Senator Taft who, regardless of one's views as to his opinions, is an able parliamentarian.

In the all-important field of foreign affairs, the Republicans steadfastly maintained a bipartisan policy—due in large part to the leadership of Senator Vandenberg. This principle Executive recommendation, the Greek-Turkey aid bill, passed easily, with a minimum of debate. The appointment of Secretary Marshall was as warmly received by the Republicans as by the Democrats. Thus, the GOP has done its full part in helping this country present a united front to the world.

Biggest domestic issue in the Republican program was the labor bill. The bill finally produced may be imperfect, but it is difficult to see how a better piece of legislation could have been written on so controversial a matter. The Republican leadership was most effective. Considering the importance of this subject, the time consumed in ironing out the wide differences between the original House and Senate versions was not excessive. GOP party unity and discipline was remarkable—only three Republican senators voted to sustain the President's veto. All in all, that is a considerable achievement.

It is apparent now that Mr Truman plans to use the labor issue as a major campaign argument when he runs next year—and everyone is certain he will be the candidate. But the record of his party members on the labor bill will be a weakness as far as he is concerned. In the final Senate vote, nearly as many Democrats voted to override the veto as to sustain it. All his efforts to promote party solidarity in this matter were unavailing, and the split was virtually complete. This was not the fault of the Democratic floor leaders, continued on page five

A QUIET FOURTH HERE

The Fourth of July in Bethel was quiet, perhaps the calmest day of any in a 10 day period. It is reported that the night before was not that way, as fireworks of all kinds were exploded on Main Street, so that traffic was suspended at times.

It seems that the prolonged period of pre-Fourth celebration, during which injuries and near-injuries occurred, has aroused some sentiment against such careless behavior. As in other towns, where the promiscuous throwing of fireworks resulted in more serious accidents, a complete ban on this customary observance may be considered as the result of the lawless conduct of a comparative few.

MAINE STATE HIGHWAY PROGRAM UNDER WAY

Maine has embarked on an ambitious state highway program this summer which will involve virtually every section of Maine.

Allocated this year will be $4,112,810 in 13 Federal aid projects; $1,380,340 in 17 Federal aid secondary projects; and $1,653,660 for 28 bridge projects. A total of $1,500,000 will be spent on State aid construction in some 400 Maine towns.

Of the primary highway projects one of the most significant will be the major improvement of Route 1 at Bath. Although this piece of construction will be less than a mile in length it will be a four-lane divided highway and bridge passing through the city center. The program will include 12.121 miles of construction on U S Route 2 at Enfield; 6.609 miles of construction on U S 202 at Winthrop; 6.077 miles of bituminous macadam at Route 7 between Dover-Foxcroft, Garland and Dexter; 5.934 miles of bituminous macadam on U S 1 between Monticello - Bridgwater; 2.634 miles of bituminous gravel on U S 1 between Machias and East Machias; 2.607 miles of bituminous macadam on Route 15 in Bucksport; 1.690 miles of bituminous concrete on Route 26 at Paris.

Federal aid secondary construction will be at East Machias, Dear Isle, Gray-Windham, Cadyville, Durham, Corinth-Dexter, Norway-Waterford, Clifton, York, Silver Ridge-Sherman, Anson, Plymouth, T17 R5-New Canada, Sidney-Waterville, Johnson Mt Twp and Sandy Bay Twp.

DOUBLE 4-H SECTIONAL AWARDS IN NATIONAL MEAT ANIMAL PROGRAM

Sectional awards in the National 4-H Meat Animal Program have been doubled this year, the National Committee on Boys and Girls Club Work has announced.

As a result, the two highest scoring state winners in the Eastern Extension section will receive an educational trip to the National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago next December. Previously only one state winner in each of the four extension sections was awarded the trip.

The county, state and national awards of medals, gold watches and $200.00 scholarships, respectively, provided by Thomas E Wilson, Chicago meat packer, remain the same. This is the eighteenth consecutive year of the activity, which is conducted under the direction of the Federal and State Extension Services.

Last year's state winner in Maine was Edwin Bumpus of Bethel.

County winners were named in Twin Cumberland, Franklin, Hancock, Kennebec, Knox-Lincoln, Oxford, Penobscot, Somerset, Waldo and Washington counties. This brought last year's total number of county medal winners in 45 states to 1,339, as compared with 1,267 in 1945.

"HOLIDAY" FEATURES MAINS IN AUGUST ISSUE

Featuring Maine as the wood-and-water state which in summer has more paying guests than natives, the August issue of HOLIDAY magazine devotes 20 pages to interesting text and illustrations (10 in color) portraying the varied attractions of our Pine Tree State. Appropriately preceding the first article is a full page color photograph of Portland Head Light, while the second picture shows the village of Rumford Center, surrounded by autumn foliage with the Androscooggin in the foreground, as a typical small town.

The principal article, by Arthur Bartlett, deals with about every phase of the state's activities—agriculture, industry, sports, vacationists—while contributions by Mary Ellen Chase and John Gould Libbie Lovett and William H Taylor complete the informative and delightful story of our state.

CED Scans Reasons for Failures

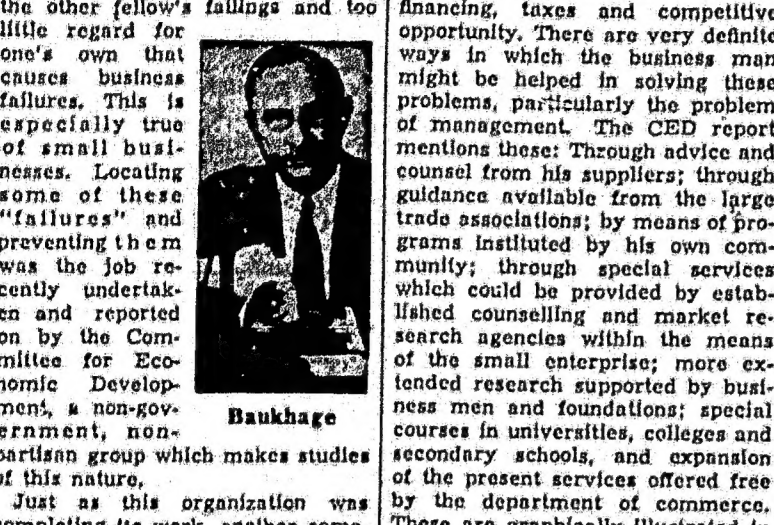

Impartial Groups Attempt Study of Business Flaws

By BAUKHAGE News Analyst and Commentator.

WASHINGTON.—The favorite game in Washington today is a new version of "button, button, who's got the button."

Only for "button" read: Depression, recession, shake-down, readjustment or what have you—if you have anything.

Sen. Robert Taft, as chairman of congress' joint committee on the economic report, had a questionnaire sent out to a long list of business men. The gist of the report seemed to be that there was going to be a business recession, but it was going to be in the other fellow's business.

Frequently it is too much faith in the other fellow's fallings and too little regard for one's own that causes business failures. This is especially true of small businesses. Locating some of these "failures" and preventing them was the job recently undertaken and reported on by the Committee for Economic Development, a non-partisan group which makes studies of this nature.

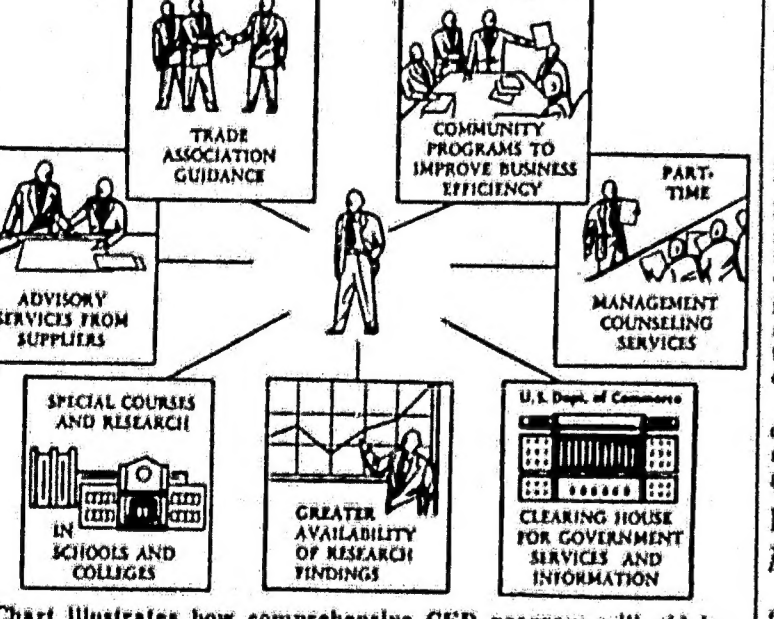

Just as this organization was completing its work, another somewhat similar group was setting a task for itself in the hope of straightening out some of the other kinks in the business world. This was the National Planning Association, which is out to discover how the many firms which steadfastly year-in and year-out maintain good relations with their employees do the trick. Both propositions are highly interesting.

CED Furnishes Fair Reports

The Committee for Economic Development has for its chairman Paul Hoffman who, in private life, is president of Studebaker corporation. Directing its research and policy division is Raymond Rubicam, the well-known advertising man.

This organization is highly respected. It has a staff of top-notchers doing the research, and its members lean over backwards to be non-partisan. In fact, at a news conference called here to discuss the report's findings, one reporter became pretty riled because he couldn't get Hoffman to comment on the tax situation, one of the hot-spot political issues of the moment.

There are two reasons why CED's latest report on small business is significant. One: Like all CED reports, it represents the cooperative efforts of top men in the highly practical field of business and top men in the field of science-political economy; a cooperative effort whose sole purpose is to make America a better place in which to live. There are no axes to grind.

The second reason the report is important to all of us is that today more than ever, in a world of competing ideologies, the perpetuation of our democracy, our system, depends upon the fostering of small business.

Although small business needs assistance, that assistance is difficult to proffer, because small business isn't an "it"—it is three and a half million small business men, all highly individualistic; all as independent and hard to influence as a monkey at the top of a coconut palm. And these disunited, sink-or-swim, cock-of-the-walkers make up 98 per cent of the firms operating in this country today.

As the CED report puts it: "Small business is more vital and more durable than might be deduced from the hue and cry heard for many years as to the disadvantages under which it labors. Nonetheless, small businesses are confronted with special problems and difficulties that are very real. It is vital to all business and to all citizens that conditions unfavorable to small business be remedied wherever possible."

The report finds that the problems of the small business man fall into four categories: management,

NEWS REVIEW Labor Act Is Effective; Weather Hits Corn Crop

Verging on mental and political exhaustion after a bitter, two-day fight, weary senators voted 68 to 25 to override President Truman's veto of the Taft-Hartley labor bill.

The action, sustaining a wallop, ing 331 to 83 house vote to pass the bill over the veto, came on the heels of a final presidential plea to Sen. Alben Barkley (Dem., Ky.) to muster all possible forces in the senate "to prevent this bill from becoming law."

Opponents of the measure needed 32 votes to uphold the veto, and they waged a desperate, last-ditch battle to attain their objective. Final result, however, was a smashing defeat for Mr. Truman at the hands of the Republican-controlled congress.

Highlights of a tooth-and-tongue opposition fight to delay the senate vote as long as possible in order to gain support was an all-night session during which Sen. Glen H. Taylor (Dem., Idaho) held the floor for eight hours and 20 minutes and Sen. Wayne Morse (Rep., Ore.) talked for 10 hours and 20 minutes. It was the longest filibuster in modern congressional history.

The Taft-Hartley act, which constitutes a wholesale revision of the Wagner act of 1934, was termed by President Truman in his veto message a "shocking piece of legislation." He asserted that the measure would "cause more strikes, not fewer," and would put the country a long step on the dangerous road toward "a totally managed economy."

"This legislation would encourage distrust, suspicion and arbitrary attitudes," the President told congress.

age crops and possibly buckwheat if seed is available.

On upland farms, ponds and lakes overflowing their boundaries also will cut seriously into corn yields. All in all, a bumper corn crop is considered extremely unlikely, even with a favorable growing season up to October.

Some authorities have begun to believe that the government's grain export program should be re-examined in view of conditions existing on the nation's farms at present.

IKE RESIGNS: Goes Academic

General of the Army Dwight D. Eisenhower has resigned as army chief of staff to accept the presidency of Columbia university in New York, effective early next year.

His decision to step out as top man in the nation's military hierarchy to take the academic post was announced in a statement by Maj. Gen. Floyd L. Parks, chief of the department's public relations division. The statement said that Eisenhower accepted the Columbia presidency with the approval of the President and the secretary of war. His resignation will become effective "at such time as his superiors may release him from active duty in the army."

The man who mapped the strategy which brought victory to Allied forces in Europe in World War II will retain his rank as a five-star general for life and continue to receive a compensation of about $15,000 a year.

Initial speculation on a successor to General Eisenhower as chief of staff centered on Gen. Omar N. Bradley, now Veterans' administration chief, who commanded the army ground forces in Europe during the war. Other, high-ranking generals under consideration for the position were Gen. Jacob L. Devers, army ground forces chief, and Lt. Gen. J. Lawton Collins, chief of army public information.

President of Columbia, Eisenhower will be the successor to Nicholas Murray Butler who retired in 1945 and is now Columbia's president emeritus. The general has also been elected a member of the university's board of trustees.

FLOODED OUT: No Bumper Crop

Experts who recently predicted a three billion bushel corn crop this year were hastily revising their estimates in the light of continuing torrential rains and widespread floods which have transformed much of the Midwest into a soggy mass of mud.

Damage has been particularly heavy in Iowa, extending from one end of the state to the other. Flooding of river bottom lands is only part of the loss.

Thousands of acres of crops have been washed out, and the loss is considered irreparable. It is too late to replant with anything except for-

RAPID GROWTH Industry Expands in Far West

NEW YORK.—The Far West section of the United States has grown greatly in recent years in population, income, industrial stature and international importance, according to a study in the Index, a quarterly publication of the New York Trust company, just published.

"World War II," the study says, "telegraphed into a few years an industrial expansion in the Far West which might have taken several decades to accomplish even at the relatively fast rate of development some parts of the area had been enjoying."

The war, it is pointed out, brought new factories and facilities to the region, accelerated development of its raw materials, expanded its power supply and increased its population, thereby adding both to its market potential and its labor supply.

With its vast store of natural resources and its rapidly increasing population, the Far West looks forward to a continuing post-war industrial growth through development of new products and new markets.

The seven states included in the study are Arizona, California, Idaho, Nevada, Oregon, Utah and Washington.

"The Far West," according to the article, "made the largest relative gains in population and income of all the areas of the United States during World War II, and has grown faster than the nation as a whole since 1939. Increasing its population by 31 per cent as compared with a 7 per cent increase for the entire United States, factory jobs in the Far West in the same period rose 68 per cent as com-

A Present Threat

America today needs thinkers if any nation ever did. We not only have the responsibility of the world, but we have a debt of $2,000 for every man, woman, and child. This means a debt of $8,000 for a family of four. Just to pay the interest on that debt takes more federal income than the nation ever raised from taxes in any year before the war. We have, also, the added costs of war pensions and expenditures for veterans.

Moreover, we must keep strong armed forces as a hope of not soon being in another war. Again and again we shall be called upon for relief and assistance to foreign countries. The $400,000,000 for Greece and Turkey is only a beginning. The total demand over the next two years may run as much as $3,000,000,000 above all present obligations. Demand is everywhere, at home and abroad.

Essentials to Health.

To meet all of these heavy demands we must have a healthy economy. This is not optional. It is a must. President Truman, Mr. Bernard Baruch, and others are calling for some of the essentials to a healthy economy. They have recently stressed longer hours, and higher productivity on the part of labor; lower profits and lower prices on the part of industry; and maximum production on the part of agriculture. These are good. They are essential, and I endorse all of them.

But one equally important item is being overlooked. It is so important, that I believe unless corrected properly it will act as a brake on our economy and prevent the very prosperity we all crave. I refer to taxes on incomes in the high brackets. The contention that we can keep the present high tax rate on big incomes and maintain a healthy economy is in my opinion fallacious.

Desire to Venture

A dynamic economy like ours requires that a lot of men each year must not only dream dreams of achievement, but that they actually must venture into business in an effort to satisfy American consumers. This is an obligation upon men who have large amounts of capital. But men in the high brackets now are being taxed up to 85 per cent of their net income. The take from income is so great as to threaten their willingness to risk. A man who could keep only 15 per cent of any additional income would not likely find it advisable to undergo the required risk necessary to increase his income.

Politics and Courage

Naturally, it is easy to say that those in the high brackets are the ones most able to pay, that they are the last ones to deserve any tax relief. It is also good politics to appeal to the many, with a determination to keep taxes on those "able to pay." But it is very bad for the future of the nation. Any policy that keeps competitive capital from going freely into the tools of production to make goods and provide jobs is, in the long run, going to reduce the national income, reduce the number of good jobs and reduce wages.

Sustained high investment of private capital in the tools of production is the only possible road to sustained high wages and full employment. May we have the courage and the wisdom to correct this dangerous threat to our future before it is too late, regardless of immediate political repercussions. May we look to the welfare of the many, and keep America ever the land of the free.

DRUNK DRIVING STILL LEADING TRAFFIC PROBLEM THOUGH PUBLIC IS AWARE OF DANGER IN DRINKING

by W Earl Hall, Chairman, National Committee for Traffic Safety

Drinking by drivers and pedestrians is a growing traffic safety problem. The most recent records of state authorities show that in one out of every four fatal traffic accidents, a driver or a pedestrian was reported as having been drinking.

Special studies bear out the belief of many authorities that the information on official reports underestimates the true picture. Surveys involving chemical tests of blood or other body materials of drivers tested who had been injured or killed in traffic accidents showed that half of the drivers had alcohol in their systems. About one third of all the drivers tested had sufficient alcohol to be under its influence.

Results show that the greater the concentration of alcohol in a person's system, the greater the danger. A person with a blood alcohol concentration of over .15 per cent has a relatively poor chance of staying out of an accident. The average driver in this range is fifty-five times more likely to be involved in an accident than drivers with no alcohol!

The public is well aware of the dangers of driving after drinking. In a public opinion poll for the National Committee for Traffic Safety, each person interviewed was asked which of ten factors caused the greater number of accidents, in his opinion. Driving while under the influence of intoxicating liquor ranked number one.

Perhaps the main stumbling block in getting better enforcement of drunken driving laws in most places has been the difficulty in determining whether drivers actually were under the influence. So much difficulty has been experienced in some places in convicting drivers who are under the influence but not "staggering drunk" that enforcement has been directed at only the most obvious cases.

Many progressive enforcement agencies, however, have turned to use of chemical tests to provide the needed additional evidence. Such tests show definitely whether there is sufficient alcohol in the blood stream and brain to cause intoxication. Their use eliminates guesswork by showing whether a drinking driver has enough alcohol in his system to be legally under its influence.

Test results do not measure how much a person has been drinking—they show instead how much has been absorbed in the blood stream, and how much gets to the brain. It is the concentration of alcohol in the blood stream and brain, and not the amount in the stomach, which bears a definite relationship to degree of intoxication.

The use of such scientific tests was recommended by the President's Highway Safety Conference in 1944. National organizations which have long advocated use of chemical tests for alcoholic influence include the American Bar Association, American Medical Association, Federal Bureau of Investigation, International Association of Chiefs of Police, National Safety Council and the National Conservation Bureau.

Despite the technical and promotional work of these groups, there are still jurisdictions which regard chemical test in somewhat the same light as the lie detector—a "new fangled gadget." Many cities, however, notably Cincinnati, Cleveland, Milwaukee, Kansas City, Detroit, Washington and Indianapolis, use chemical tests as routine practice. A recent tabulation showed 62 cities over 10,000 population for enforcement purposes, with 20 state enforcement agencies likewise reporting.

Use of evidence obtained through chemical test is now officially recognized in state laws in Maine, New York, Indiana and Oregon. Model legislation on interpretation of chemical test results, as recommended in Act V of the Uniform Vehicle Code, has been introduced in legislatures of several states this year.

A chemical testing program has many advantages. There are more pleas of guilty, and fewer cases necessitating jury trial, with the attendant expense. There is less chance for a miscarriage of justice—the non-drinker and the mild drinker are spared the embarrassment of unjust arrest. These tests actually "free the innocent and convict the guilty."

The organizations making up the National Committee for Traffic Safety look upon drinking and driving as a safety problem. The committee is concerned in seeking to develop greater public acceptance of the responsibility for avoiding the social tragedy and economic waste caused by traffic accidents. As far as liquor is concerned, we urge only: "When you have been drinking, don't drive." Even two or three drinks may affect judgment in driving and contribute to an accident.

RESOLUTIONS OF RESPECT

Again our hearts are saddened by the loss of a sister from our ranks, by the passing of Sister Jennie Mitchell, a charter member and Past Chief of Mishemokwa Temple, Hanover.

Sister Mitchell was a faithful member for many years, giving of her best to the Temple and always ready to do her part. This year, she had just attended a session of Grand Temple as our Representative and enjoyed it all so much. She will be greatly missed by all who knew her and

Whereas, we realize that He who doeth all things well, has called her to the Temple above, we shall long remember her loyalty to our order and her interest in all matters pertaining to Pythianism, and

Whereas we shall miss her at our temple meetings, we shall still have the memory of her work with us for many years, which will be an inspiration for us all who follow after.

Therefore be it resolved that we extend our heartfelt sympathy to her daughter and other loved ones.

That a copy of these resolutions be sent them, also one to the Bethel Citizen for publication, and one be spread upon a page of our records and that we drape our charter in her memory for 30 days.

"Sometimes the shadows gather And the clouds are in the sky; Sometimes we cannot see the sun, For the tears are in our eyes; But always in the darkness, We are under God's great hand, And in His fragrant garden, We will wake and understand."

Respectfully submitted,

Been galavantin' again. Been up to the city. I always come home with sore feet and a kink in my neck, and glad that I don't live amongst the stop and go signals and traffic whistles. But when six months roll around, there I am at the ticket window and preparing to take-off again. Something like the farmer going into town to get "light" and claiming "how he did it."

Witness, Albert J. Stearns Judge of said Court at Paris, this third Tuesday of June in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and forty-seven.

EARLE R. CLIFFORD, Register

Things are getting a little better, maybe, in the city—but still room for improvement. On a street car, I asked the conductor if my "token" ticket was good on his line. He ripped out a raucous "ya," meaning, I figured, "yes"—anyway he grabbed the token. It was a municipally-owned car—the guy was on civil service, it would be difficult to fire him. Anybody surmising that maybe city or Govt. ownership of anything is good for a community, or brings better service he can try a street car ride like I am talking about.

And another thing—it concerns big business versus little business. Susie says to me as we passed a grocery store, look at the figs, let's have a few. We did. They were 45 cents a pound. In the next block at another store were some more figs—same kind—25 cents a pound. This last place, some day, it will be big business. Then along will come somebody running for some office or other—and pointing at the little store that gave skookum service for less, as a menace.

Yours with the low down,
JO SERRA

BIBLE QUESTIONS ANSWERED BY THE VOICE OF PROPHECY

Question—Does the Bible say that Satan is made of flesh and blood?

Answer—No. The Bible says Satan is "the spirit that deceiveth in the children of disobedience." Ephesians 2:2.

Q—Please give me a full about Sunday.

A—The word "Sunday" found in the Bible, but in nine places in which the word of the week is mentioned, Genesis 1:5; Matthew 28:16; Mark 16:9; Luke 24:20; John 20:19; Acts 13:14; 1 Corinthians 16:2.

Q—What is meant by the Lord's supper unworthily?

A—1 Corinthians 11:29; that eateth and drinketh unworthily, eateth and drinketh to himself, not discerning the body. In the communion service to discern the broken and shed blood of our Lord. An attitude in partaking of the supper leads to what the scriptures speak of as eating and unworthily.

Q—Is a person really who never professes it at all like to speak of it?

A—We cannot read here alone knows the answer to this question. "For the Lord as man seeth: for man looketh on the outward appearance, but the Lord looketh on the heart." 1 Samuel 16:7. However, a true Christian, no matter how he or she may feel, should be ever before Christ, Jesus said: "I will I confess Christ, Jesus said: ever before shall confess before men, him will I confess before My Father which is in heaven." Matthew 10:32.

Q—I lost a dear one to the Lord. What does the Bible say about meeting our loved ones on the other side?

A—In the life to come, we know even as also we are (1 Corinthians 13:12). The recognized Jesus after His resurrection. (Luke 24:31, 36-43). seventy years later, then John knew Him when he was in vision. (Revelation 1:13). The redeemed will be like after the resurrection. Phil 3:20, 21. "For our conversion in heaven; from whence we look for the Saviour, the Lord Christ: who shall change our body, that it may be fashioned unto His glorious body, and to the working whereby we are even to subdue all things unto himself."

Question—What was God's purpose in creating the earth?

Answer—It is made clear in Genesis 1:1. "In the beginning, God created the heaven and the earth." Q—What is the meaning of the word "Genesis," the first book of the Bible?

A—"Genesis" means the beginning, and so in this book of the Bible we find the record of the beginning of the world and all things. The very first words are the beginning of God's creation of heaven and the earth.

Q—Will you please tell me what preparation one should have for baptism?

A—It should be preceded by faith, repentance, confession of sin, and a sincere desire for the reformation of life. (Matthew 3:1-11; Mark 16:16; Luke 3:3).

Q—What does the word "baptism" mean?

A—It comes from a word which means to wash. The "Holy Spirit" is the term used by God for His inspired writings. 2 Timothy 3:16. "That from a child thou hast known the Holy Scriptures, which are able to make thee wise unto salvation through faith in Christ Jesus."

Q—Why isn't there more of the promises of the Bible?

A—The promises of the Bible are just as real as they can be. The promises of God are real. Matthew 5:8: "Blessed are they that hunger and thirst after righteousness, for they shall be filled." In the last chapter of the Bible, Revelation 21:1, it is spoken of as "new earth" wherein there shall be no sin or death.

Q—I have heard that the world was created 6000 years ago.

A—It is possible to hear things that are not true. The first day God said, "Let there be light." Genesis 1:3. Did He wait 6000 years for light to come? On the third day of creation, God created the sun, moon, and stars. Through 250,000,000 years, the earth was created. The morning was the third day of creation. Another thought—Adam lived 930 years. (Genesis 5:5.) He lived on the sixth day of creation, which followed, and so on. Therefore, the week of creation was not composed of days of years long.

BIBLE QUESTIONS ANSWERED BY THE VOICE OF PROPHECY

Question—Does the Bible say that Satan is made of flesh and blood?

Answer—No. The Bible speaks of Satan as "the spirit that now worketh in the children of disobedience." Ephesians 2:2.

Q.—Please give me a few texts about Sunday.

A.—The word "Sunday" is not found in the Bible, but there are nine places in which the first day of the week is mentioned, namely: Genesis 1:5; Matthew 28:1; Mark 16:2; Luke 24:1; John 20:1; John 20:19; Acts 20:7; 1 Corinthians 16:2.

Q.—What is meant by taking the Lord's supper unworthily?

A.—1 Corinthians 11:29: "For he that eateth and drinketh unworthily, eateth and drinketh damnation to himself, not discerning the Lord's body." In the communion service we are to discern the broken body and shed blood of our Lord. Any other attitude in partaking of the Lord's supper leads to what the Apostle speaks of as eating and drinking unworthily.

Q.—Is a person really converted who never professes it and never likes to speak of it?

A.—We cannot read hearts. God alone knows the answer to this question. "For the Lord seeth not as man seeth; for man looketh on the outward appearance, but the Lord looketh on the heart." 1 Samuel 16:7. However, a born-again Christian, no matter how backward or reticent, should be willing to confess Christ, Jesus said: "Whosoever therefore shall confess Me before men, I will confess him before My Father which is in heaven." Matthew 10:32.

Q.—I lost a dear one two years ago. What does the Bible say about meeting our loved ones on the other side?

A.—In the life to come, we shall know even as also we are known. (1 Corinthians 13:12.) The disciples recognized Jesus after His resurrection. (Luke 24:31, 38-43.) Nearly seventy years later, the apostle John knew Him when he was revealed in vision. (Revelation 1.) The redeemed will be like Christ after the resurrection. Philippians 3:20, 21: "For our conversation is in heaven; from whence also we look for the Saviour, the Lord Jesus Christ: who shall change our vile body, that it may be fashioned like unto His glorious body, according to the working whereby He is able even to subdue all things unto Himself."

Question—What was God's purpose in creating the earth, anyway?

Answer—It is made clear in Isaiah 45:18: "He created it not in vain. He formed it to be inhabited."

Q.—What is the meaning of the word "Genesis," the first book in the Bible?

A.—"Genesis" means the beginning, and so in this book of Genesis we find the record of the beginning of the world and all things therein. The very first words are these: "In the beginning God created the heaven and the earth."

Q.—Will you please tell me what preparation one should have before baptism?

A.—It should be preceded by faith, repentance, confession, and reformation of life. (Matthew 3:2, 6, 7; Mark 16:16; Luke 3:7-14.)

Q.—What does the word "Bible" mean?

A.—It comes from a word which means book. The "Holy Scriptures" is the term used by God for the inspired writings. 2 Timothy 3:15: "That from a child thou hast known the Holy Scriptures, which are able to make thee wise unto salvation through faith which is in Christ Jesus."

Q.—Why isn't there more reality in the promises of the Bible?

A.—The promises of the Bible are just as real as they can be. The eternal inheritance of God's people is real. Matthew 5:5: "Blessed are the meek; for they shall inherit the earth." In the last chapters of Revelation this is spoken of as the "new earth" wherein there will be no sin or death.

Q.—I have heard that the days of creation were each 500 million years long.

A.—It is possible to hear many things that are not true. On the first day God said, "Let there be light." Genesis 1:3. Did He have to wait 500 million years for it to come? On the third day vegetation was created. How could it live through 250,000,000 years of darkness? Remember, "the evening and the morning were the third day" (Genesis 1:5), the same as every other day of creation. And here's another thought—Adam lived 930 years. (Genesis 5:5.) He was created on the sixth day of creation, lived over the seventh-day Sabbath which followed, and long after. Therefore, the week of creation was not composed of days millions of years long.

who did everything to gain support for the President. Sentiment just ran the other way.

The Republicans promised a tax reduction bill, and they delivered the goods in this as well. The great majority of the party in the House voted to override the Presidential veto, but they simply didn't have enough votes. Regardless of the wisdom of tax reduction now, the party leadership was excellent.

The tax question will also loom large next year. It is significant that many observers who were opposed to tax reduction on the grounds that reduction of the debt should come first, did not like the President's reasons for vetoing the bill. He laid particular stress on the theory that it favored the rich at the expense of the poor. This, say the Republicans, is not true, and is an attempt to gain the votes of people who are not conversant with the facts. Some also believe that the President vetoed the bill so that he can propose a tax-reduction measure of his own next year and gain whatever political profit may be involved. That remains to be seen, but it is true that the veto message was so worded as to make tax reduction seem a possibility for the near future.

With Mr. Truman's nomination by the Democrats a seeming certainty, the various forces within the Republican party are getting down to cases in grooming candidates. A little-noted fact is that the labor bill was, in some measure, a victory for Governor Dewey. Most of the job of framing the final version was done by Senator Ives of New York, who is very close to the Governor and is believed to reflect his point of view. It is apparently the kind of bill Governor Dewey believes fair and workable.

Senator Taft seems to have increased his lead over most of the other prospective candidates. He is very strong in the potent Middle West, and he has a good following in the industrial East. But the opposed Taft and Dewey forces could conceivably eliminate each other at the convention. That is why some commentators feel that there is a distinct possibility that neither may be the candidate.

In the meantime, talk of a third-party seems to be growing. Its advocates say that the Republicans are hopelessly reactionary, and that the Democrats are weak, ill-disciplined and vacillating. Some curious third-party tickets have been proposed, one of them being Henry Wallace with Elliot Roosevelt as second man on the ballot. Very few people, however, take this kind of talk too seriously.

Some close-ups like this, in addition to a full view, help capture the individuality and appeal of a home. A small lens aperture is best used for such shots since it helps render details sharply.

THERE'S NO PLACE LIKE HOME

IN THE last ten years more and more real estate firms have turned to photographic selling—assembling pictures of properties listed with them for study by prospective purchasers.

One of the leading firms to do this has carefully studied its clients' reactions and found out exactly the type of pictures it needed to convey a property's personality. It has discovered, for instance, that if you're going to sell a client pictorially you have to have pictures not only of the house but of unusual architectural features, of other elements which are a part of a property's appeal—the lawns, the garden, the trees or orchard.

All this might well be remembered by Henry Homeowner, one of whose favorite camera subjects is his house. An inviting doorway, a corner of the garden, as well as a picture of the house itself, help show the appearance of his home. If it has a terrace, if a stream's on the property, if an aged shade tree overhangs the lawn—all these are things which make the home appealing to him and his friends.

Most of us can't afford another peace at any price.

The selection of the best angles from which to take such pictures is, of course, up to Henry. But there are a few suggestions which can help in making pictures of his home. For one thing, pictures of a home should include all the detail possible. As a result he'll want to "stop down"—to use the smallest lens aperture consistent with light conditions. For small lens apertures provide greater range of sharpness, insure sharp focus over a greater area.

A second hint which may help Henry is to make his pictures either in early morning or late afternoon, when the long shadows cast by the sun increase the pictorial effects.

Chances are, too, that Henry will want to "frame" his picture of his home, showing it set off by an overhanging tree in the foreground. He'll want, too, in picturing the house, to be far enough away from it and high enough so that his camera can be held level, thus avoiding distortion. But in large part, his success will come from asking himself why he likes his home—and picturing his answers.

—John van Guilder

can be FATAL!

12,200 pedestrians were killed by automobiles last year—1,340 more than the year before. Two out of every three violated traffic laws or committed unsafe acts which contributed to their deaths.

And believe it or not—many of these fatal accidents actually happened less than six feet from the curb—only a step or two from safety!

Between intersection accidents accounted for more than one-third of all pedestrian fatalities last year. These victims carelessly rushed out from behind parked cars, or simply jaywalked themselves into traffic—and death. Others even ignored the safety of lights and traffic officers at intersections to save a few seconds—and lost their lives.

Never take safety for granted. Cross at intersections within the crosswalks. Wait for the light or the policeman's whistle. Be alert for the inconsiderate driver making a right turn, or the reckless one beating a light. On open highways, allow for the speed of approaching cars. Walk to the left, facing traffic.

Whenever you cross, look both ways. One step can be fatal!

Try Lemon-Egg Pie for Potluck Supper
(See recipe below.)

Church Suppers

Although church and club activity dwindles to a minimum during these warmer months, there are still events on both calendars which require participation — and with food.

For events such as these the requirements are simple but quite important. We want a dish that is easy to make and to carry; then, too, we want something that will appeal to a number of people. We also like to bring a dish that goes pretty well with anything else that may be served.

*First, there are a number of main dishes from which to choose. Any of these will put you up with the top ranking cooks of the community.

Chicken Chow Mein.

(Serves 6)
2 cups cooked chicken
2 tablespoons fat or oil
2 cups thinly sliced celery
1 1/2 cups sliced peeled onions
3/4 teaspoon pepper
2 cups chicken broth
2 cups canned mixed Chinese vegetables
3/4 cup canned mushrooms
2 tablespoons cornstarch
3 tablespoons soy sauce
Scallions
1 can fried noodles

Brown chicken slightly in fat; add celery, onions and pepper. Add chicken broth and cook, covered, until vegetables are tender. Add drained Chinese vegetables and mushrooms and heat to the boiling point. Mix cornstarch with soy sauce and add to hot mixture, stirring constantly. Let simmer 2 minutes or until slightly thickened. Arrange on deep platter or vegetable dish with scallions and serve with fried noodles.

Frozen Salmon Loaf.

(Serves 6)
2 cups cold cooked rice
1 1/2 cups salmon, drained and flaked
1 cup cooked peas
3/4 teaspoon salt
3/4 teaspoon paprika
1 tablespoon lemon juice
3/4 cup mayonnaise

Combine the ingredients lightly and freeze in a loaf or ring mold until firm enough to slice. Unmold on crisp greens and serve with lemon wedges.

*Dutch Hot Slaw.

(Serves 4)
6 cups shredded green cabbage
1 tablespoon butter
2 eggs, beaten
1/2 cup vinegar
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 1/2 tablespoons granulated sugar
1/4 teaspoon paprika
1/4 cup water
3/4 cup light cream

Cook cabbage until just barely tender. Drain, place in serving dish or casserole and keep hot. Meanwhile, melt butter in double boiler, then add eggs, vinegar, salt, sugar, paprika and water. Cook until thickened, stirring frequently. Remove from heat, add cream and beat until fluffy. Pour over hot cabbage.

LYNN CHAMBERS' MENU

*Baked Beans with Hamburger
Relishes Rolls *Dutch Hot Slaw
Beverage *Frozen Fruit Salad
Cookies

*Recipes given.

*Baked Beans With Hamburger.

(Serves 4)
2 tablespoons fat
3/4 cup sliced onions
3/4 cup diced celery
3/4 pound chuck beef, ground
2 1/2 cups canned, baked beans
2 teaspoons Worcestershire sauce
3/4 teaspoon salt
3/4 teaspoon powdered sage
3/4 cup water or tomato juice

Heat the fat in a skillet. Then add onions, celery and beef, and cook, uncovered, for 10 minutes. Add remaining ingredients and heat thoroughly.

You'll want to make good use of garden vegetables; and nothing would be more welcome at church or potluck supper than some of your freshest vegetables, seasoned beautifully and cooked to perfection.

Spinach, Bacon Dressing.

(Serves 4)
2 1/2 cups hot, cooked spinach
4 strips bacon
2 tablespoons vinegar
1 tablespoon sugar
1 teaspoon salt
3/4 teaspoon pepper
3/4 teaspoon prepared mustard

Dice bacon and saute in skillet until golden brown. Add remaining ingredients, except spinach and heat thoroughly. Then add to spinach, toss and serve at once.

Make your desserts easy but delicious by selecting one of these two:

*Frozen Fruit Salad.

(Serves 6)
1 orange
2 slices pineapple
3/4 cup Royal Anne cherries
1 banana
2 canned pear halves
1/2 cup blanched, chopped almonds
1/2 cup maraschino cherries
1/2 cup bottled salad dressing
3/4 cup whipping cream

Remove rind and skin from orange and cut fine. Chop other fruits and combine with nuts. Add dressing and fold in whipped cream. Freeze in tray of automatic refrigerator until firm.

Lemon-Egg Pie.

(Serves 6)
4 egg yolks
1 cup sugar
Grated rind of 1 lemon
4 tablespoons lemon juice
1/4 teaspoon salt

Meringue
4 egg whites
1/2 teaspoon salt
3/4 cup sugar
8-inch baked pie shell

Blend first five ingredients. Cook over simmering water, stirring constantly until thickened, about 15 minutes. Remove from heat. Prepare meringue by beating egg whites until stiff, then adding salt and sugar gradually. Beat until glossy and firm. Fold yolk mixture into meringue. Pour into baked pie shell. Bake in a moderate (325-degree) oven until delicately browned, about 20 minutes.

Soaking pots, pans and casseroles in which food has burned or dried makes them much easier to wash. If the condition is serious, boil some soap suds in the pan slowly for a few minutes to loosen the food.

Avoid excessive use of soap and soaking when cleaning heavy dark cast iron skillets. Restore finish by coating with fat.

Pipe cleaners are ideal for cleaning many parts of the range that are inaccessible otherwise. Keep them handy.

HUGH STUDEBAKER, "Dr. Charles Matthews" of the CBS "The Guiding Light," lost nine pounds in the first five days of his first dramatic assignment on the air. Mike fright! Yet he'd been appearing in vaudeville, drama and concert work, and been singer, organist and ad-libber on a radio show. That was in Kansas City. In 1934 he married his boss, Bertina Congdon. His most famous role is probably that of "Blackface Silly Watson" on the Fibber McGee and Molly show, though he claims to have portrayed Abraham Lincoln more often than any other radio actor. He once worked in 46 programs in one week on the same station!

HUGH STUDEBAKER

George Henderson, Pullman porter, has been hired for the briefest technical direction job in Hollywood's history by producer Don Hartman at Columbia. He will show studio set dressers how to make up upper and lower berths for a single sequence in a train's drawing room in "It Had to Be You," a comedy which stars Ginger Rogers and Cornel Wilde.

Anna May Wong may have a successor in Nancy Hsueh, who's seven. About 30 Chinese children were interviewed for a role in "Intrigue," supporting George Raft, June Haver and Helena Carter. The daughter of the picture's technical director, Director Edwin Martin gave her a test—and she did beautifully, even stealing scenes from George Raft.

When they worked together in "The Corn Is Green," Bette Davis gave Joan Loring this excellent advice: "Don't worry about beauty; people get tired of the same old face, beautiful or not. What's important to an actress is change. Often I am hideous on purpose, and I play all ages. No one can say of me, 'Just look. Dear, dear, she's falling apart, she's getting so old!' because I've always kept changing. When they're tired of me as an elderly woman, I'm suddenly young again."

MGM's Sam Marx has been studying a print of "The Four Horsemen of the Apocalypse"; wants to bring it up to date and refilm it with Ricardo Montalban in the role that shot Rudolph Valentino to stardom. Montalban makes his first appearance on the American screen in "Fiesta," with Esther Williams, and is now working in "On an Island With You," on location in Florida.

Dennis Morgan realized three boyhood ambitions while starring in Warner Bros. "Cheyenne"—he wore a 10-gallon hat, beat a bad man to the draw (took lessons from Raoul Walsh) and learned how to roll a cigarette with one hand.

Mel Torme, 21-year-old singing star, is to have a radio program of his own soon. Currently featured at a New York night club, he's made 12 pictures—is the male singing star of the new MGM release, "Good News." Somebody thought up "velvet fog" to describe his voice! Popular with the younger set, he'll aim his program at the preferences of the teen agers.

RKO executives were so pleased over the performance given by Gloria Grahame in their "Crossfire" that they promptly took steps to buy her contract from Metro. Then they cast her in the top feminine role in "Requiem."

The horse to be ridden by Jack Carson in "Two Guys From Texas" was picked because it matched Carson's vest in technicolor.

ODDS AND ENDS—English cinema has inaugurated "Alan Ladd repertory seasons," showing a series of his pictures... Peter Lorre, now in the Abbott and Costello spot on NBC, plans to present a series of classical psychological thrillers by such experts as Tolstoy, Poe and Dostoevsky... H. V. Kaltenborn is set to leave for a round-the-world jaunt at the end of July, with three commentators filling in during his seven week absence... There's a budget of $6,000,000 for Ingrid Bergman's "Jour of Love" in which she will wear a coat of mail specially made by the New York Museum of Modern Art.

Worn-out electric cords are highly dangerous. If it cannot be repaired, throw it away and get a new one at once.

An electric motor mounted on a stand or bench often is quite noisy, so much so that the vibration can be felt in nearby rooms. The cure is a sound deadening cushion of rubber or felt. Four or five rubber washers placed under the base will do the job.

If you'd like to preserve eggs at home by the flash heat method, proceed as follows: Dip the eggs into boiling water for five seconds, let them cool in the air, then store them in a cool place.

Electrical Amp Determines Balls, Strikes by Beams

An ingenious baseball device scientifically determines balls and strikes and, consequently, eliminates actual and suspected errors in judgment by the umpire, says Collier's. It consists of a vertical beam and a horizontal beam of electric light which cross each other and form an area in front of the plate that, when pierced by the ball, causes the indicator to register a strike.

Let's go to town —at home!

NO TELLING what tomorrow's weather may be. It feels the best forecast, a new percolator, and a new end table in the living room. And we don't want to rush around rainy streets to hunt them. Problem: How to thwart the weather man. Simple enough! Let's sit down by the fireplace and read the advertisements. Here it's comfortable and snug. We'll take the newspaper page by page, compare prices, qualities, brand names. Tomorrow, rain or shine, we'll head for the store that has what we want, and home again in a jiffy.

• "Buying at Home"—through the advertising columns—gives you wide selection, more time to decide, and satisfaction when you decide.

Here lie the remains of a driver who thought he could drink and still drive a car. Racing down the highway at a dangerous speed, his car wandered off the edge of the pavement, dragged on the sandy shoulder, and was wrenched into a spin. Drunken drivers are potential murderers of every other motorist who comes near them on the road. They were involved in more than 5,000 fatal accidents last year. National Conservation Bureau safety specialists say even one or two drinks slow up reactions, make judgment unsure, increase chances of accident three to four times.

"The true sense is spiritually lost, if the sacrament is confined to the use of bread and wine. Christianity as Jesus taught it was not a creed, nor a system of ceremonies, not a special gift from a ritualistic Jehovah; but it was the demonstration of divine Love, casting out error and healing the sick, not merely in the name of Christ, or Truth, but in the demonstration of Truth, as must be the case in the cycles of divine light" (pages 32: 20-21, and 135: 26-32).
